

Biography

Kevin U. Ennis, M.A.Ed., ATC/SCAT, NASMCPT, CPO

“ We at Carolina Sportscare and Physical Therapy use the talents, knowledge and experiences of each team member to enhance our clients’ experience. We anticipate celebrating positive outcomes as our clients recover from surgery, improve athletic performance, or enhance their lifestyle.”

Education is Key

We believe that education is the key to unlock our clinician’s talents. We encourage our clinicians to educate clients about their injury, rehabilitation or fitness. We strongly believe in education and participate not only in educating clients, and ourselves but also in education other professionals by hosting continuing education courses and lecturing both in and out of the country. We educate the general public with lectures and teach at local schools.

Community

We belong to this community and we feel it is our duty to give back in a variety of ways. We financially support a number of local charities, we regularly host free performance enhancement clinics for young athletes, and we each individually participate in our community to make it a better place to live.
